Full set of Stone Martin.
Full set of Royal Ermine.
Full set of Mink.
Full set of Ghinchilla.
Sleigh Robe, White Polar Bear.
Sleigh Robe, Royal Tiger.
Furs more magnificent than these cannot be found in this er may other city of the Union, and Genin invites the ladies of New-York to call and examine them. He will, this Fail and Winter, present, for their inspection and approval, an assortment of Muffs, Victorines, Cuffs, &c. unrivalled in variety, beanty and excellence, and graduated in price by that system of moderation which has heresofore characterized all his dealings with the public.

Genin's stock of Children's Felt and Benor Hats for the present and approaching season, embraces all the most recherche Faria modes, and a great diversity of fancy styles, manufactured after his own patterns. In Ladies Bonnets, of the same material, the variety is equally extensive. Priding himself somewhat upon the taste displayed in this department, Genin respectively asks the ladies to pass their judgment upon it.

He would also call attention to his large stock of Men's ed in this department, GERIN respectfully make the laddes to pass their judgment upon it.
He would also call attention to his large stock of Men's and Children's Velvet and Cloth Caps, of new and highly becoming shapes and styles.

DAVIS'S HYPERION.—If we were to give a name to this most excellent compound, we should call it the transcendenta hair fluid; for it certainly transcends all proparations of the kind. Its effects are truly magical. It cleaness and invigorates the skin, importing to the hair such a delicate somess and uxuriance, and so enchanting a gloss that its immortal name-sake, were he present now, would pronounce it worthy of his name, and doubtiess would parroulze it, in full faith that it would impart a new grace to his own "ambrosial curis." For sale by the Proprietor, 584 Ludiow at, and by all Druggists. PATENT BED-CLOTHES CLASP.—All who value health and comfort in sleeping, should avail themselves at once of the benefits offered by this sung little article. Parents especially, who would prevent all the ovir consequences arising from the nightly exposure of their children from reactessness or other causes, should proune the PATENT BED-CLOTHES CLASF. #### WHIG NOMINATIONS.

For Governor ... WASHINGTON HUNT, of Niagara Co. Lieut Governor. GEORGE J. CORNELL of N. Y. City. Canal Comm'r. .. EBENEZER BLAKELY of Otsego. Prison Inspector. Gen. ABNER BAKER of Jefferson. Clerk of Appeals. WESSEL S. SMITH of Queens.

For Europe.

The next number of The Tribuns for European circulation will be issued THIS MORNING, at 9 o'clock. It will contain all the latest news up to the time of going to press. The America sails from Boston To-Morrow at 12 o'clock.

The conclusion of the "Narrative of the Arctic Expedition" is unavoidably omitted.

The era of daily advices from Europe seems near at hand. Yesterday we published the news brought by the Pacific, and this morning our telegraphic dispatch from Halifax announces the arrival of the Canada at that port, with intelligence three days later. No event of controlling interest has occurred in these three days. In FRANCE, which seemed to threaten a revolution of some sort, parties are appeased, partially at least, and rumors are again contradictory. We still see no reason to fear that matters there will not be tinkered up, and the outward peace preserved for some time to come. In GERMANY, the crisis in Electoral Hesse approaches that peaceful termination which the people have so triumphatly deserved. In Schleswig Hol-STEIN things remain as they were. The same is true of the other countries.

IVTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT .- The Delegates from this District (VIth, VIIth. Xth and XIIIth Wards) reassembled last evening, at 74 o'clock, at the Easterm Emblem, Grand-st. A Resolution was adopted that 17 votes (out of the 25 composing the Convention) should be necessary to a nomination. Walter Underhill, the present member, on a pledge given by Joseph Hoxie that he only desired it as a compliment and would positively decline, received the nomination. A recess was then taken of tifteen minutes, a Committee being appointed to wait upon Mr. Underhill, who, in accordance with Mr. Hoxie's pledge declined the nomination.

The balloting was again commenced, and lasted till midnight. On the first ballot, W. E. Robinson received 7 votes, W. W. Lyon 6 votes, Robert T. Haws 4 votes, and J. H. Hobart Haws 3 votes. On the twentieth ballot, J. H. H. Haws received 17 votes, and was, of course, nominated, though two from his own, (the 10th) Ward, three from the 7th Ward, and one from the 6th Ward, refused to concur.

A committee waited upon Mr. Haws to tender him the nomination, but he wisely concluded to ask till 12 o'clock to-day before consenting to accept the nomination.

The 'Union' Demonstration.

It is not a difficult matter to get up a public meeting. With industry, a few good names and some money, this is a ready achievement. To make it subserve the ends of its authors is often more critical, especially if they have none which they are willing distinctly to avow.

We have a good many communications relative to the proposed 'Union Meeting,' which we have concluded on the whole to withhold. The affair so changes its complexion from day to day, that an article written at any hour is likely to be out of date before the ink has had time to dry. The first intent of the Union Meeting was undoubtedly to give force to the Journal of Commerce's attack on Washington Hunt, by nominating a piebald ticket from which the Whig candidates for Governor and Canal Commissioner should be excluded. But to this, on maturer consideration, there are found two objections; first, a great many Whigs who will unite in the meeting, including a number designated for officers, will draw back if any open attack on the Whig candidate for Governor should be made; and, in the next place, any such denunciation or proscription as was originally contemplated would give Mr. Hunt ten votes in the State for every one it cost him in the City. The meeting will, therefore, be reduced to the necessity of giving its denunciations a cloudier shape and flog Washington Hunt over the back of Gov. Seward, and of 'fanatics' and 'agitators' generally. The prime movers still mean to denounce and defeat Mr. Hunt, but to do it so slyly that the People in the Rural Districts' will not know what they mean. -There are some who now say that this meeting is not intended to operate on our approaching Election; but the facts are in their teeth. Why is it held during the week preceding the Election? Why are its leading organs and bellows-blowers the most vindictive and subtle adversaries of the Whig party of the State, and especially its candidate for Governor? The whole affair is transparent, and, if any are gulled there is no serious dispute about them .-Signing the call is in effect a cheap mode of advertising for Southern custom. Lawvers sign, meaning, 'If you want your fugitive Slaves caught, or any thing else in will be done with neatness and dispatch.' Ship-owners sign, as if to say, 'Dear · Southern customers! you may continue to ship in our vessels, without a fear that · them.' Merchants sign, in order that the South may see how devoted they are to the Constitutional guaranties,' how hostile to the escape of fugitive Slaves, and how ready to join in catching and sending them back. ( N. B. Choice goods at our store. Walk in and examine them!')-Editors sign or spout, with an eye to Southern influence and Southern subscriptions, It is a 'fair business transaction' through-

We close with a reminiscence which many can verify. In 1835, a series of 'Abolition Riots' were got up in our City, of which the fury was mainly wreaked on the Messrs. A. and L. Tappans. Such was the depravity of the Press and the imbecility of the Municipal Government, that they continued through several nights or evenings. A leading Silk house, then wealthy and flourishing, came out with an advertisement that they were no Abolitionists. A large accession of Southern custom was their immediate reward. Mississippi gave them almost her entire trade. Two years afterward that Silk house failed for over a Million Dollars, and their assets were protested Southern notes, not worth the paper they had spoiled. The members of that house have ever since been poor men. Some of those who are now riding the Woolly Horse as hard as they did, in the hope of sudden riches, may in like manner be dismounted before they shall have reached the goal of their aspirations.

To the second proposition, I shall reply in the affirmative, as I have always been in favor of distributing our vast public domain to the actual settler, considering that by this time one of the cardinal articles in the Whig creed.

To your furth, I declare I am perfectly satisfied with the General Banking system now in force in our State, as the safest scheme yet tested.

And to your fourth, I will promise that I shall do all which may be in my power for the Union intact and against interference with the peculiar institutions of the South. I am a State Rights man, and am therefore greatly opposed to all schemes for recommendation or Northern Legislatures.

To your fifth I will reply very cheerfully, by pleaging myself that I will sustain most heartily the regular Whig Legislative nominations.

And, in conclusion, gentlemen, I accept your nomination with great difficience, declaring at the same time my great arxiety for the welfare of the party to which we all belong, and willing to make any concession you see it for the maintenance of our cherished principles. If, under these circumstances, I can receive the support of the whole party in good faith and not of a section, I will enter the canvass the candidate of no clique, but that of the regular and National Whig party, whose principles I shall always athere to in defeat of triumph. Commercial advices from Bombay to Sept. 27, Calcutta 7th, and Hong Kong to Ang. 24, were received at Liverpool by telegraph at a late hour on Friday.

The business season has commenced and there is a good opening in the import market. The sales of Cotton commenced at Bombay at favorable prices. Grey Stuffs of middling quality were sought after.

From the Calcutta market we have equally favorable accounts. Mule Twist commanded high prices and much business was done in red Yarns.

METALS—Trade was firm.

The whole stores of Indigo were sold, and Sugar was taken at moderate prices.

SALTEKTER constantly in demand, and so were Rice and raw Silk, with prices looking up.

Protest-Second Ward.

Ward, New-York, Oct. 28, 1850, the following preamble and Resolutions were unanimously

Whereas, Two rival Ward Committees and Delegations to the General Committee claimed to have been duly elected by the Whigs of this Ward at their last Annual Meeting for the choice of such And whereas, the General Committee, on the present ent of conflicting credentals of membership as storesaid, id order a Day Election, fixing the day and appointing one aspector of each party and an umpire from its own body tool said Election;

Inspector of each party and an impire indicates word of the hold said Election; And whereas, said Election was duly held, and all the Whig legal votes of the Ward and none other permitted to vote thereat;

"And whereas, said election resulted in the choice of James Keily and associates as Delegates to the General Committee, and John N. Sayre and associates as Whig Ward Committee, has was certified by the Inspectors of both parties and undisputed by any body;

"And whereas, the Delegates thus chosen to the General Committee were thereupon admitted to their seats without further contest, and John N. Sayre inscribed in the General Committee's book as Chairman of the Hd Ward Whig Committee's book as Chairman of the Hd Ward Whig

Committee's book as Chairman of the H4 Ward Whig Committee;

And whereas, the party thus defeated at a fair day election, of which ample notice had been given, in which both sides had fully participated and of whose result there was no dispute, still maintained a factious and irregular organization in contempt of the General Committee and of a formal and express decision of the voters of the Ward;

And schereas, under the pressure of influences most unjust and unworthy, the Delegates chosen under the call of this Bolting Committee have been admitted to the Whig Mayoralty and Judicial Conventions, and the regular and rightful Delegates excluded;

And schereas, we have reason to believe that the nominations of those Conventions were to alconsiderable; extent governed by such admission and exclusion, and the carnest desire of a large majority of the Whigs of the City as well as at this Ward defeated and disappointed, to the vital injury of the Whig cause and the prejudice of our excellent State Ticket: Therefore,

Resolved, That this Committee does most emphatically protest against such exclusion of the fairly chosen and rightful Delegates of our Ward from the Judicial and Mayorally Conventions, and the corresponding course taken by the Delegates from the lat and IVth Wards in the Congressional and from the lat Ward in the Assembly Conventions, Resolved, That we hold ourselves utterly absolved from muy moral or honorable obligation to support any condisional and from the Ist Ward in the Assembly Contentions.

Received, That we hold ourselves utterly absolved from any moral or honorable obligation to support any candidates who by each figuatice and outrage have been fosted upon the Whig party, in violation of the rights of the Whigs of the Second Ward.

The above Presmite and Resolutions were unanimously adopted, and ordered to be published in The New-York Tribune and Courier and Enquirer.

JOHN N. SAYRE, Chairman.

Cheming—Assembly, ALVAN KELLOGG, of Scott, District Attorney, R. H. Duell, of Cortlandville; Sup'tof Poor, Thuman Rimbor, of Cortlandville; Justice, James Comstock, of Marathon; Coroner, Robert C. Owen, of Homer. The Convention which nominated these gentiemen.

Resolved, That this Convention heartily approve of the nomination of Washington Hunt for Governor, George J. Cornell for Lieutenam Governor, Ebenezer Blakeley for Canal Commissioner, Abner Baker for State Prison Inspector and Wessel S. Smith for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, and that we pledge them our united and bearty sup-Port.

Resolved, That we hall with pleasure the nomination of Edwin B. Morgan for Representative in Congressarom this district, and that we believe if elected, he will faithfully represent the people of this Congressional district in our na-present the people of this Congressional district in our national councils.

Resolved, That the course pursued by our representative in Congress, Hon. Harmon S. Conger, meets our hearty approval, and that the votes which he has given in Congress upon the great questions which have agitated our country has been in accordance with the views and feeings of the Whig party of his district.

Resolved, That we are in favor of the immediate repeal of the hill passed at the last Session of Congress, known as the Foglitve Slave Bill, believing it to be both constitutionally and mentally wrong.

The Flood.

The Flood.

Urica, Monday, Oct. 28.

The cause of the great rise of Nail Creek and damage to the mills was the opening of waste water on the Chenango Canal, which threw water into it. Considerable damage was done to the Clinton Plank Road along the Canal. The San-Cinton Plank Road along the Canal. The San-quoit is very high, and we hear has done great damage to the dams along its line. The Canal was filled yesterday nearly to the top of the banks, and at one point overflowed the streets. The embankments gave way near Rome yester-day and boats do not pass this morning. It is not a serious break, and will probably be O. K. to-day. We learn by the packet from the East that the Mohawk is higher than at any previous time this year; and as less floods have caused that the Mohawk is higher than at any provous-time this year; and as less floods have caused greater damage, loss of property, &c. we fear we shall have to notice similar disasters from this. Considerable damage has been done to farms, bridges, fences, &c. west of Utica, if we may judge from the amount of material floating down bringes, tences, ac. west of the the tree pipeling from the amount of material floating down yesterday. The storm wound up yesterday by an attempt at a snow storm, and the hills around Utica were covered this morning. The water at Rockton is higher than it was in June. Petre's Furnace is surrounded with water. At Checkere 25 head of cattle were drowned, and the factory of Frederick Hollister is considerably damaged. The Oriskany Creek was as high as ever before known.

Five hundred dollars will cover all the damage the steam woellen factory at this place has sustained. It will be again going to morrow.

Further as to the Flood-From Owego.

Owego, Monday, Oct 23.

We are again visited with a great freshet. For the past four or five days, the rain has fallen in torrents, and without intermission. The damage has not been as great to the farmers—they having all their crops in, or to the Railroad Companios—as it was during the Summer. The temporary bridge, at Barton, on the Eric Railroad, was washed away, but has been repaired for the trains to go over to day. The bridge at that place was washed away during the last freshet. A small bridge on the Chemung Railroad, near Jefferson, was also carried away.

was also carried away.

The trains have been put much behind their times, and will not probably run regularly for a day or two.

The Susquehenna is higher than it has been seen

Further as to the Floods,

Thoy, Monday, Oct. 23.
The river at this place is several feet above its level, and all the docks are submerged. The damage is yet trifling and the water seems to be at a stand. Hopes are entertained that it will recede during the night. UTICA, Monday, Oct. 2 The Chenango Canal, from Log City to Hamilton, is nearly gone. It will be impossible to fix it this season. A number of houses were carried off at Log City and many cattle drowned. We are continually hearing of the ravages of the freshet around this city. The loss will not be less than $100,000. The Plank Roads are quite gone in places, and it is impossible yet to ascertain the extent of the damage.

The Floods. UTICA, Monday, Oct. 28. It will take two or three days to repair the break this side of Rome. No boats bound West are allowed to pass this city. Another serious break has just been heard of thirty miles west of this city. It is worse, than the one at Newyille.

The brig Garland arrived at Salem from Para,

Oct. 3d; reports that Yellow Fever had rouppeared among the shipping there with great viru-lence. Many foreign vessels were detained by the illness of the crews, some whole crews being down with the sickness and some vessels having lost 5 or 6 of their hands. The fever was mostly confined to the shipping when the Garland left. She had no sickness on board when she left, b on the 8th day out her Captain, William Hadley Wenham, died of fever, and most of the crew have been more or less ill during the passage.

The Fugitive Slave Law in Boston.

Boston, Monday, Oct 23.

No arrest of Fagitive Slaves has yet takes place, and the city is quiet, although incendiary handbills are posted about the streets. William II. Hughes of Macon, Ga. the person who came on to reclaim Crafts, has voluntarily given bail is $10,000 to answer to a charge of slander, in stating that Crafts was guilty of theft in stealing himself and clothes. Knight, who was arrested on Saturday afternoon, for slander, came on here on his own private business. and was called on by his own private business, and was called on by Hughes to identify Crafts, whom he had em-

Hughes to identify Craits, whom he had employed in Macon.

The Vigilance Committee has been increased to 100. C. G. Loring and other leading lawyers have volunteered to defend any Fugitive who may be arrested. Crafts remains quietly at his house in Southac st. The houses in this part o the city are barricaded, and pientifully provided with arms and ammunition.

Further as to the Fugitive Slave Excitement in Boston. Boston, Monday, October 22. J. Wright and W. W. Hughes have again been arrested on a charge of "Conspiracy to kidnap William Crafts," the alleged fugitive slave. The arrest caused another crowd, but as the parties readily obtained bail, the people soon quietly dis-persed. The reason given by the opponents of the law for their movements is that they wish to drive the fugitive slave seekers from the city Shipwrecks, &c.

During a severe S. W. squall yesterday foreneon, the schooner Yankee Hero, frem Boston for Gloucester, was capsized off Cape Ann. The crew clang to the wreck, and were taken off by the schooner Reliance, which put out from Glouches and the put of the cester for that purpose. An unknown schouner, bound from Boston to the eastward, was capsized about the same time. The crew were taken of by an outward bound vessel.
